

CITIBLOCS

-- Kids Today, 11/27/2009 2:21:00 AM

PRODUCT OF THE DAY

These wooden blocks from CitiBlocs are crafted in Vietnam from New Zealand trees, and don't require glue, snaps or connectors. Kids simply supply gravity, balance, imagination and a flat surface, to build castles, skyscrapers, creatures and more. While busy building, balancing and designing, tykes can learn the basics of architecture, mathematics and science. CitiBlocs have nabbed 11 industry awards so far in 2009. Ideal for children ages 3 and up, CitiBlocs offers kits priced from $15 for a starter set to $230 for 1,000 pieces, www.citiblocs.com.
