

the

TOY BOOK®

Vol. 27, No. 1 January/February 2011

SERVING THE GLOBAL MARKET

TOY FAIR 11

What's New

Building Fun with CitiBlocs

From CitiBlocs, kids will quickly learn all traffic signs as they maneuver their way around roadblocks with CitiBlocs' RoadBlocs, a strategy game made of colorful wooden blocks. The game asks players to respect the traffic signs while blocking your opponent so you can get where you are going first. Players must avoid traffic violations and signs including "cow crossing" and "steep hill approaching," which add a bit of whimsy to the traditional traffic signs.

CitiBlocs' CitiKits now include a spooky haunted house, a pastel dollhouse, a Boston brown townhouse, and a red country house. A figure is included, but more people can be added with CitiBlocs' CitiPeople, an accessory pack of wooden people. Add a little color to several kits with CitiBlocs' CitiScape, which includes green trees, shrubs, and landscape features.

The Little Builder Rattle Blocs are designed for little ones and includes rattle blocks, steps, and triangular roof pieces.

