

Two Products for the Builders of the Family

My son loves to build things. He's constantly grabbing blocks, Legos, K'Nex, anything he can get his hands on, to make his latest masterpiece. And then, when he's got it just right, he takes it apart so he can start all over again. Lately, my mission has been to find him unique building products that he won't tire of – and that are high quality and fun. We found two unique products that fit the bill!

The first is the Noah's Ark Stacker Multi-Purpose Toy. The ark is a puzzle that can be put together, but can also be played with. When your little one is done, he can just load the included figures right back into the ark. I love how portable this is – it definitely can go with my son to Grandma and Grandpa's house. The Noah's Ark Stacker Multi-Purpose Toy can be purchased at TierToys.com

The second toy is CitiBlocs, which are wooden construction blocks that can be put together in a variety of ways. They don't require glue or adhesives, and can be used to make so many different things. There are a variety of kits available with different size and color blocks. To purchase CitiBlocs, visit their Web site.

Disclosure: I received a set of CitiBlocs and a Noah's Ark Stacker for review at no cost.
